

North Dakota

Voters in North Dakota will elect an Attorney General and state legislators in the 2018 cycle. Forty-eight (48) of the 94 seats are up in the state House as well as 24 of 47 state Senate seats. Republicans are expected to maintain control of the legislature and the Office of Attorney General.

Attorney General

Democratic Nominee

David Clark Thompson

David Clark Thompson has stated that his decision to run for this office was based on what he views as corruption within the North Dakota Industrial Commission. Thompson co-authored an investigative project on the Commission and its members.

Thompson has also been critical of the current Attorney General accusing him of voter suppression. He has also been critical of the Attorney General joining the Texas-led litigation that aims to dismantle the ACA.

Trivia: Thompson has never run for office before.
