

FLORIDA

Voters in Florida will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, and attorney general. All 120 state house seats and 20 of 40 state senate seats are up for election. Florida remains firmly Republican at the state level, but Democrats are looking to make legislative gains in select districts, particularly following the state's mid-decade redistricting.

Chief Financial Officer

Democratic Nominee

Annette Taddeo

Annette Taddeo served in the Florida State Senate from 2017-2022, representing District 40. She is campaigning for CFO on a message of holding Tallahassee accountable and making the CFO's office a stronger watchdog for Florida taxpayers and consumers.

Taddeo's campaign is focused on lowering insurance costs, increasing oversight of government spending, auditing politicians' expenditures, scrutinizing contracts, and combatting what she describes as corruption and a lack of accountability in the state capital. Her platform also emphasizes consumer protection, including strengthening the CFO's role in workers' compensation, insurance claims assistance, financial literacy, and fraud prevention.

Trivia: Taddeo made history as the first Latina Democrat elected to the Florida Senate.
