

COLORADO

Voters in Colorado will elect a new governor to replace term limited Governor Jared Polis (D), a new attorney general, and treasurer. All 65 seats in the house and approximately half (17) of the senate will also be on the ballot.

Treasurer

Republican Nominee

Fremont County Commissioner Kevin Grantham

Former State Senate President Kevin Grantham (R) is running to replace term-limited State Treasurer Dave Young (D). Grantham has served Coloradans since 2007, when he was elected the city council for Cañon City. In years since, he won two terms in the state senate, serving as its president during his second term. He also served as chair of the Appropriations committee and on the powerful Joint Budget Committee, which bridges both chambers of the Colorado legislature. Currently, Grantham is on the county commission of Fremont County.

Grantham's top issue should he win in November will be affordability. Grantham has called out financial irresponsibility within the Treasury Department itself, which has doubled the size of its staff under Dave Young. His campaign highlights his long history of fighting for low taxes, stopping tax hikes while in the state senate and cutting property taxes as a Fremont County Commissioner.

Trivia: Grantham began his public service career in 2007 as a member of the Cañon City Council.
